Edwards Air Force Base Presents...

"The Secret World of Reclaimed Water"

Learn the fascinating secrets of water reclamation during this free, state standards-based workshop for teachers of grades K-12!

In addition to serving as a world-famous landing site for the Space Shuttle, Edwards Air Force Base is also home to a state-of-the-art water reclamation plant, where thousands of gallons of water are recycled for non-drinking usage. After touring the plant, workshop participants will learn to use the award-winning Project WET (Water Education for Teachers) curriculum to teach their students about water reclamation and conservation.

Each participant will receive a copy of the Project WET Curriculum and Activity Guide book, which is chock-full of fun, hands-on learning activities which integrate math and science concepts for all grade levels.

This is a teacher workshop you cannot miss!

Where:

Edwards Air Force Base Rosamond Blvd. West Gate Entrance

Date: February 22, 2006 Time: 4 PM sharp to 7 PM.

Presented By:

Robert Wood Chief, Environmental Management, Edwards AFB
Christie Robinson Project Coordinator for Mojave Desert Resource
Conservation District

Please RSVP by February 14, 2006 by calling Cheryl Bennett at: (760) 245-1661 x6101. No late RSVP's will be accepted. Seating is Limited

Earth Day is
April 22, 2006.
Celebrate by teaching your students about water conservation!

Workshop Guidelines

To gain access to Edwards AFB, there are certain guidelines that must be followed in gaining clearance for all workshop attendees. These guidelines and requirements are as follows and will be required at the time of your RSVP:

- Last name, first name, and middle initial
- Citizenship If not a US Citizen, an Alien registration # will be required.
- Last six digits of SSN
- Driver's License # and state where it was issued.
- Place of Birth (city, state, and if not US citizen, country)

Please arrive promptly at 4 PM gain access to the Base, as all attendees will be leaving the gate entrance and entering the Base at 4:10 PM by means of Base bus transportation.

Due to limited parking, carpooling is encouraged. Upon making your reservation for the workshop, you will be provided with directions to the west gate entrance of Edwards AFB.

